TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE.

By Appointment.

London from Tower Bridge. The upper bridge, or high-level span, of the Tower Bridge is half as high as St. Paul's Cathedral, and is reached by huge lifts when the bascules below are raised for ships to pass. There is a magnificent view from it up and down the river, and from the spiral staircases—lighted by stained glass windows—that supplement the lifts.

(For Address Only)

"FATHER THAMES." Series I.

Raphael Tuck & Sons' "OILETTE." [Regd.] Postcard 7514.

From "LONDON TO THE NORE," illustrated by H. L. Hyde (A. & C. Black)

Printed in England.
